

VOLUNTARY GALLERY GUIDES

AGWA's passionate Voluntary Gallery Guides, also known as Guru Guides bring the Gallery's varied Collection life through free guided tours. As a Voluntary Gallery Guide you will inspire creativity and stimulate conversations with education audiences, private tours and our daily visitors

AS AN AGWA GUIDE YOU WILL RECEIVE:

- Invaluable experience working within one of Western Australia's most significant cultural institutions.
- Opportunities to develop new skills, connections and networks within the arts industry.
- Regular opportunities to look at, learn about and talk about art with a wonderful group of like-minded people.
- Free entry into all paid exhibitions at the Art Gallery of WA.
- Occasional discounted or complimentary invitations to arts activities and events in Perth.
- 20% discount at Arthouse Dine.
- 15% discount at the Gallery shop (excluding catalogues).
- A membership card entitling you to reciprocal benefits at other galleries in Australia and sometimes worldwide.
- A great feeling that you are contributing to the cultural health and wellbeing of our community.

THE IDEAL GURU GUIDE WILL HAVE:

Exceptional communication skills

- A good grasp of spoken and written English is desirable but we welcome applicants whose English is a second language.
- Proficiency in a second language, including AUSLAN, is valuable but not required. We do scheduled tours in languages other than English when possible.
- The ability to communicate effectively with others, especially school-aged children, in a friendly and engaging manner.

Enthusiasm for arts and culture, and willingness to learn.

- A keen interest in the visual arts and a desire to expand one's knowledge and interact with art of different genres.
- The ability to research, interpret and absorb new information and to order material in a logical manner.

A reliable and positive attitude towards work.

- The ability to commit to the time required for initial training and, once qualified, to carry out the duties required of a Guide (click here to view the VGG Training Program for 2017).

AS AN AGWA AMBASSADOR, YOU WILL:

Be an ambassador for the Gallery

- Maintain our exceptional standard of customer service to visitors, ensuring that everyone has an enjoyable experience at the Gallery.
- Embody the AGWA's values both inside and outside the Gallery by upholding the Code of Conduct.
- Show your support through advocacy of the Exhibition and Guiding programs.

Be an active member of the Guides

- Participate in the training program for Gallery Guides at AGWA.
- Research and share information with the Guides about artworks in the State Art Collection and temporary exhibitions.
- Grow your knowledge and understanding of visual arts through attendance of professional development meetings.
- Collaborate with your peers to research and prepare for exhibition with the support of AGWA Curators, Exhibition and Visitor Experience Teams.
- Research, plan and conduct tours, starting with tours for primary school students.

GURU GUIDE REQUIREMENTS:

- Complete the 2017 Training Program for Voluntary Gallery Guides.
- Attend regular fortnightly Professional Development meetings.
- Engage in extra training provided by the Gallery for special exhibitions.
- Upon graduating from the Training Program, research, plan and conduct a minimum of 28 tours per year, starting with tours for primary school students who visit the Gallery on weekdays during school term time.
- Submit a research paper each year on a particular artwork or group of works in the Gallery's collection.
- Be an active member of study group aligned to the AGWA Exhibition Program.
- Comply with AGWA's Code of Conduct and other policies.
- Able to hold National Police Clearance and Work with Children Card. (AGWA will assist with submitting these clearances for any volunteer who does not have one.)
